

Kiuryaq - Access Guide

Date and Time

Wed Jan 28 @ 8PM, with a pre-show chat and reception at 7PM

Access Overview

[BLV] This is an audio-dominant show featuring storytelling and soundscape meant to evoke the magic of the northern lights. A descriptive introduction of the visual elements of the show will be made available no later than Jan 25. Contact access@pushfestival.ca for more information.

How to Experience

Kiuryaq is about two siblings born in the north with one being separated by adoption down south. The older sister is raised under the aurora with her grandparents and the younger brother is raised with no knowledge of his place of birth. Under their ancestral connection to the northern lights, choices are made that change their realities. There are other characters who reflect the ways the aurora has become an object of obsession and tourism, often in humorous ways. Kiuryaq is a transformative performance work which brings the circumpolar region together to share some wisdom, warnings, and humour to all those who are curious. In form, Kiuryaq is a blend of theatre, with three performers embodying multiple roles; concert, with original music played by a live string quartet; and film, with expansive, immersive projections.
